AUSTRIAN SPY WILL BE SHOT

In the Back along with Two Italians for Trying to Burn
the Port of Genoa.

ROME, Sept. 29.—An Austrian spy named Larace and two Italians have been condemned to be shot in the back by the Ancona court martial for complicity in the attempt to burn the port of Genoa. With this conspiracy, it seems, were connected explosions in munition factories in Milan and elsewhere, aggregating in damages a total of several millions of dollars. The Austrian, who was at the head of the plot, sought out Italian criminals, gaining an ascendancy over them so that he could command their cooperation for only nominal sums. In one case the price for an attempt to blow up one of Italy's greatest steel works at Terni was about $80. If this attempt had been successful, it would have retarded military operations for several months.

Larace had in his possession when arrested eight jointed walking sticks of about the size of a man's little finger, painted a gray-green, filled with dynamite. They were hidden in umbrellas when he tried to escape. These dynamite canes had no time fuses, but were so arranged as to explode a few weeks after being placed in position.

THOUSANDS OF MARYS GATHER FOR REUNION

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Sept. 29.—The second annual reunion of the Marys of the United States was held on the Second Ward school grounds in this city. The attendance was estimated at 2,500. Not only were most of the counties in Indiana represented but there were Marys present from seven other states.

Prizes were awarded to the prettiest Mary, the tallest Mary, the shortest Mary, the lightest Mary, the heaviest Mary, the Mary having the largest number of children, the oldest Mary, the youngest Mary, the Mary coming the longest distance, the Mary that could jump the rope the most times, and the Mary who had been married the longest.

MINE CLAIM WON IN A CARD GAME A RICH ONE.

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 29.—One wintry night some thirty years ago a group of men sat about a card table in a Helena gambling house. The red flare of an oil lamp lighted up the faces of prospectors determined to win at poker what they had failed to unearth in the great wastes outside. It was late when one man shoved in his last "white"—and lost. Demanding one more try, he offered a mining claim.

Not a gambler in the house would give the desperate stranger so much as a chip for his claim—none but "Swede Sam" Wallin. The miner lost. The land which became Wallin's as a result of the night at cards lay in the Blossburg mining district, near Helena. As the years of three decades passed its dirt remained unworked.

Today Wallin's claim may be worth $100,000. A prospector, last month struck a rich vein of ore in the Blossburg district, running into his claim.
